A VISIT TO CHRISTOPHER CLARKE

The leading antique dealer in campaign furniture is a small family-run company in Cotswolds: Christopher Clarke Antiques Ltd. The company is now run by Sean and Simon Clarke, the sons of the late Christopher Clarke.

The company's storefront is located in the scenic town of Stow on the Wold in Gloucestershire. In September 2013, John Hoffman and I visited the Clarkes, and the brothers were kind enough to let us photograph some of the wares in their store and to spend hours of their time helping us with research on the book "Campaign Furniture."

The following photographs are a visual catalog of our visit. For more images, I highly recommend you visit the company's web site, campaignfurniture.com, which contains hundreds of photos of the pieces they have acquired and sold.
